Singing, playing, and moving together strengthens your family bond

Adding music to your home makes parenting easier and enhances your family culture

Music class is a joyful place where you are supported and your growing child is celebrated

You'll love that you get to be your child's partner as you smile, giggle, bounce, cuddle, sing, and play together while connecting with other parents who want the best start for their babies. You'll love the movement and the exuberance of walking and talking toddlers exploring and practicing their language skills. We celebrate that joyful commotion in every class!
